

Don't Let Soap Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulitified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is very cheap, and treats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

PINK FOR A BABY GIRL.

Why pink for the girl baby and blue for the boy? The reason for the distinction is not very clear. We are told that in Russia and in America (blue is used in the preparation of the outfit for a baby if the parents desire a boy and pink if the preference is for a girl, and then the old story brinks just whichever one he pleases regardless of the color motif so the wise mother uses both pink and blue in her babyette. A Russian maiden not only wears pink in her girlish but adorns her wedding trousseau plentifully with this hue.
